

PENALTY OF DEATH ASKED FOR TREASON

Imposition Of Capital Punishment Is Urged By Liberal M.P.

OTTAWA, June 12.—Parliament yesterday was asked to impose the death penalty for spies, saboteurs and traitors to Canada regardless of their nationality.

The request came from Arthur Stagli (Lab. Perry Sound, and warning to the Commons of "thousands of traitors" within Canada and the possibility of enemy agents striking the Dominion from the United States.

TO RENEW DEMAND

Mr. Stagli demanded the death penalty for enemy agents within Canada and urged that aliens interfering to enter Canada for subversive purposes be warned that their adventure will end "at the end of a rope."

The proposal brought on cheering from the government. The Commons itself took the demand quickly.

Mr. Stagli said he had discussed it with Justice Minister L. S. King and that he would propose it again in the House of Commons to be set up to review defence of Canada regulations.

Prime Minister King's resolution to set up this committee was being debated when Mr. Stagli made his request that sabotage and espionage be added to the crime of murder, treason and rape, for which capital punishment is now provided by the Criminal Code.

WAITING TO STRIKE

Dr. H. A. Bruce (Con. Toronto-Finch), warned the Commons that it had "barely scratched the surface" in Ontario alone in rounding up spies. He added there were "thousands of Quilings" at large waiting for the moment to strike.

Dr. Bruce was speaking when Mr. Lapointe adjourned the house for the day to permit members to attend funeral services for Hon. Norman Rogers.

Conservative Leader Hanson amplified a statement he made in the House of Commons yesterday when he could get the ear of the moderator of the United Church of Canada, Dr. John W. Macdonald (U.C. Ottawa), who would "tell him something."

He had meant to add Mr. Hanson said that he would ask the moderator to use his influence on certain ministers who had expressed sentiments antagonistic to the defence of Canada regulations, or at least make it clear that such expressions from a small minority were well outside the view of the moderator or the great majority of clergymen under his jurisdiction.

MAYORS URGE SUPPORT FOR WAR EFFORTS

Encouragement For Buying Of War Certificates Asked At Meet

OTTAWA, June 12.—The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities yesterday urged support for its preliminary activities of mobilization and saving money to effect its solid support of the government war effort.

The Federation heard an appeal from its president, Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa, for hearty support of the government war effort, and passed several resolutions aimed at supporting Canada's war effort to the fullest.

OFFER CO-OPERATION

Mr. Lewis urged that instead of trying to raise money for tanks and airplanes as some Canadian towns were trying to do, the municipalities devote their efforts to encouraging purchase of war savings certificates.

A resolution was adopted by the convention pledging its readiness to co-operate in any way possible with the Dominion government for efficient prosecution of the war. A committee of eight met. Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa was asked to discuss the more specific aspects of municipal aid in Canada's war effort and present him with the resolution.

Another resolution "that this conference urge upon the Dominion government the expediency of calling upon all Canadian bondholders to pay in full the principal and interest on their war bonds for the duration of the war period" was adopted by Mayor J. W. Fry of Edmonton and endorsed by the convention as a method of speeding up the resolution was "to introduce through the Dominion Control Board such measures as would have the effect of nullifying the exercise of such privilege."

FACE INCREASED COST

In making the motion, Mayor Fry said that Canadian municipalities were facing an increased debt service cost on an estimated $300,000,000 of Canadian municipal bonds, payable at the option of the holders in the United States funds.

It was felt Canadian bondholders should be willing to accept Canadian funds at all in payment of their coupons "on a patriotic basis" and "as a contribution to the foreign exchange for war purposes."

One resolution passed endorsed the report of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations, which favoured the offer of government assistance to child refugees from the Empire and the United States, and urged that the Dominion government bring through Canada's Tractable value of the money of London, England, has been estimated at $200,000,000.

SIMPLE RITES ARE HELD FOR DEFENCE HEAD

Funeral Service Is Held For Hon. Norman Rogers in Ottawa House

OTTAWA, June 12.—From the hazy halls of Parliament, soldiers and sailors yesterday gathered to bid a last farewell to Hon. Norman Rogers after a brief and simple funeral service.

Monday Mr. Rogers left the same scene of his labor as minister of defence, the House of Commons, which ended in his death in an airplane crash near Newtown, Ont.

At the end of the funeral service, conducted by Rev. Stuart Tyson of the Baptist church, St. Basil's, Mr. Wells, principal Protestant chaplain of the armed forces, Prime Minister King stepped to the coffin to make a public last message from the dead statesman.

PREMIER GIVES MESSAGE

"In the faith we will fight on, we will stand, we will endure, we will take the offensive and we will win, were the words of the message."

Mr. King explained they were found on a pad on Mr. Rogers' desk in the House of Commons. The minister left on his last Monday trip to speak in Toronto. Though not the same they were similar to the concluding words of the speech Mr. Rogers had to have delivered. They evidently expressed a thought which was last in his mind.

Dark clouds hung overhead as the slow-moving cortege from the navy ship, the Sir Charles Hays, off from the Peace Tower on Parliament Hill, and the first of the cortege.

Mr. Rogers' two sons, Rodrick McLeod, and Alan MacNeill Rogers, stood at the head of the casket, which was draped in the colors of the Canadian flag.

HOUSE PASSES HUGE BILL FOR U.S. DEFENCES

Overwhelming Approval Is Given Measure To Assist Forces

WASHINGTON, June 12.—By vote of 481 to 1, the House of Representatives stamped approval yesterday on the bill, H.R. 10,000, which provides for $1,000,000,000 for the purchase of 50,000 additional men for the army, a full-time system of naval air pilot, and other defence measures.

A series of big defence appropriations to assist through Congress, the measure passed the House and went to the Senate. It raises the maximum total defence program to $1,000,000,000.

Among other items in the bill are funds for training for 8,000 civilian air pilots, to be conducted by the civil aeronautics authority, and to include primary, secondary and "refresher" training, the last for old pilots who may need brushing up on combat flying. The bill also provides funds for an unspecified number of tanks and other mechanical equipment.

The Senate approved the training of civilian aviation corps boys in non-combatant army activities, such as cooking, photography and mechanics.

Lance Bombardier Now Credited With Being War's Strangest Hero

Supplied Them With Drinking Water through a Pipe, Exploded a Charge and Spared a Royal Tank from Being Crushed

LONDON, June 12.—A lance bombardier who said he liked "a bit of excitement" was credited by the British Express today with being the war's strangest hero—the soldier who rescued 11 tankmates from a Dunkerque cellar when they were entrapped, exposed and would have disappeared before they could find out his name.

The Express said he was Lance Bombardier George Brockerton, 40, who survived the Dunkerque evacuation and had been in the cellar into action "in a hole in the wall."

"KICK OUT OF LIFE" On June 3 a group of 100 British soldiers, the "Lucky Dicks," were taken to a cellar and jumped to my feet as soon as the explosion occurred, knowing that the Germans were in the cellar.

Brockerton said he liked "a bit of excitement" as he remained around the Dunkerque area the rest of the week, helping with the wounded.

They said they were entrapped in a cellar following a Nazi raid on Dunkerque while the evacuation was in progress. Their rescuer supplied them with drinking water through a pipe, exploded a charge and spared a Royal tank from being crushed by the Germans.

When they came out he had provisions for them and when they tried to thank him he replied: "I was just doing my job, and I was just doing my job."

BRITISH SHIP DAMAGED BY TIME BOMBS

Royal Mail Freighter Is Near-Victim Of Blast At Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, June 12.—A powerful time bomb apparently intended to sink the British Royal Mail freighter Canberra at sea, blasted the crew hold of the vessel on Wednesday night, but failed to explode.

The explosion was followed by a second in another hold after the ship alighted in such a manner that the result of the first major sabotage in Buenos Aires since the start of the war.

First reports said four British sailors were injured. It developed, however, that the injured were Argentine sailors who were on board the ship. The explosion shattered a fuel tank and opened the side of the 4,718-ton ship.

MRS. NIELSEN SAYS POVERTY IS SUBVERSIVE

TORONTO, June 12.—Mrs. D. V. Nielsen, Winnipeg, Manitoba, member of parliament for North Battleford, Sask., said this week poverty is the most subversive element in Canada and that the fight against it should be carried out on the home front. The number of men turned down because of physical unfitness when they sought to enlist was nothing short of tragedy, Mrs. Nielsen, the only woman member of Canada's parliament, told the Toronto Star. Unemployed men's associations, she said, are a tragedy. We have to wait until we can feed up our young men to make them fit to enlist," she said, adding in appeal to all classes, clergy and politicians to unite to raise the standard of health of the Canadian people.

Appeal Is Made JASPER CANADA WOMEN LOTTINGS To Carry On

BY FAY PARKER

JASPER, June 12.—Transforming the entire interior of Jasper Park Lodge is the big undertaking that has kept a large crew of workmen busy for some time. The beautiful rustic lodge, famous the world over, will grow with added beauty this summer under a myriad of lights. Loyalists maple has been used throughout and the best hand-picked effect coverings and cushions given like jewels to provide the note of smartness to the ensemble. On Saturday, June 15 the Lodge will receive its first guests.

Saturday will also go down on the historical records of Jasper Park. For on that day, the barriers will be removed on the Jasper-Banff Highway and motorists may pass freely from Jasper into Banff over 147 miles of scenic highway unimpeded anywhere.

Last Friday, when the Parish Hall was the setting for a card party under the auspices of the Anglon W.A. Winners at which were Mrs. Ray Scott and Mrs. L. Seaward, Hon. H. D. Stephens, Mrs. J. H. McNeil, Mrs. B. L. Stephens, Mrs. R. S. Evans, Mrs. Thomas Fackey and Mr. Gordon Hay. Mrs. George Skett, president, was in charge of arrangements for the affair and Rev. W. H. McNeil, officiating with the church on behalf of club members.

Canadian Markets Close Today

Stock and grain exchange officials in Edmonton have announced that all Canadian markets will be closed to trading today in observance of the legal holiday in celebration of the King's birthday. The only markets remaining open today are the United States markets.

TODAY'S MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 13.—The stock market fell its trading volume today as war deposits took on a more darker color.

Declines were leaders and 2 points were lost at the close. Some extreme war bonds were added and a few blue chips were to be observed.

Among prominent "down" leaders were U.S. Steel, General Motors, American Telephone & Telegraph, Standard Oil of New York, and Standard Oil of California.

The Canadian session was quiet and most markets closed a fraction with the net unchanged.

FRENCH SHOW FINE BRAVERY AGAINST NAZIS

everything that will move on wheels, tanks or foot and sea this attack.

The German offensive is exacting a fearful toll in men and machines.

Reputable estimates place the Nazi casualties on the Somme front to more than 300,000, bringing their total war losses to about 1,100,000.

ESTIMATES ACCURATE

As they say around French official circles these estimates to be accurate.

Of the total casualties, it is a safe assumption that 20 per cent are dead.

In places, their tanks have penetrated the flexible French superiority in numbers, a heart-breaking to see from where I stand.

One flight blew up a hospital in a town where I had been a short while back. The Germans are a lot of madmen about them.

The German infantry is attacking with mad fanaticism, leaping with screams over the body of its fallen comrades.

Mr. President, I wish first to express to you my deep gratitude for the generous aid which you have given to France in this war.

For six days and six nights our people have been fighting with arms and a hope of rest against the enemy of crushing superiority in manpower, material and armament.

everything that will move on wheels, tanks or foot and sea this attack.

The German offensive is exacting a fearful toll in men and machines.

Reputable estimates place the Nazi casualties on the Somme front to more than 300,000, bringing their total war losses to about 1,100,000.

ESTIMATES ACCURATE

As they say around French official circles these estimates to be accurate.

Of the total casualties, it is a safe assumption that 20 per cent are dead.

In places, their tanks have penetrated the flexible French superiority in numbers, a heart-breaking to see from where I stand.

One flight blew up a hospital in a town where I had been a short while back. The Germans are a lot of madmen about them.

The German infantry is attacking with mad fanaticism, leaping with screams over the body of its fallen comrades.

Mr. President, I wish first to express to you my deep gratitude for the generous aid which you have given to France in this war.

Looking Them Over

Pryke's Day

WHENEVER you find yourself regarding the achievements of an athlete with complacent satisfaction—telling yourself that we're pretty damn smart fellows—consider the coming pigeon and try to find out what makes it do what it does.

You'll find yourself smack up against a blank wall. Nobody has yet been able to explain that sense of direction possessed by this bird.

One amazing example of this uncanny sense came up here the other day. Fred Digby of the South Side shipped some pigeons to John Ward of Vancouver recently. One of them escaped as Ward was tending them and three days later it cocked in at Digby's place on the South Side. That bird had never been west of Edmonton before and it made the trip to Vancouver in an express car.

But if men have not been able to solve the problem of how one of these birds finds its way home, they have at least been able to develop birds that can tear off more and more mileage. Sixty to seventy years ago, a flight of from 600 to 1,000 miles was considered extraordinary. Now flights of from 1,000 to 2,000 miles are not uncommon.

It has long been maintained that these pigeons make nonstop flights of five or six hundred miles, although actual proof was not easy to produce. The U. S. record is held by a bird that covered 600 miles in 9 hours and 27 minutes which is better than a mile a minute.

However, proof beyond question was produced on Tuesday that a homing pigeon can fly at least 800 miles without landing. Saturday morning 13 homers were released in Portland. On Tuesday one of these birds landed on the Nelson liner, en route to Hawaii and 800 miles out from the U. S. Pacific coast. The crew caught the weary bird and radioed its leg band number back. It is believed that high winds carried the pigeon out to sea. It is therefore likely that it actually flew over a thousand miles nonstop in its efforts to head north to Portland against the wind.

You'll go a long way before you find a tougher or more determined little athlete than the homing pigeon. He makes our marathon runners look like toddlers.

Golfing Pryke Family Celebrates

YESTERDAY one of western Canada's best known golfing families, the Prykes, staged a rare celebration at the Calgary Golf and Country Club—the golden wedding anniversary of Dad and Momma Pryke. Dad, Henry Edgar Pryke, has been greenskeeper at the Calgary Country Club for 19 years. Five sons and three daughters were present for the occasion.

Harry Scott records the event in The Alberta as follows:

"Harry Pryke, well-known greenskeeper of the Calgary Golf and Country Club, was born at Colchester, Essex County, England, on June 10, 1867, at between his birthday on Monday and his 80th wedding anniversary today he is enjoying a great week.

"Gold enthusiasts know Pete and Joe best of all, as they are professionals, Pete at Earl Grey Club and Joe at Colwood Club, Victoria. B. C. Harry Jr. is here from Vancouver, Jack is here from Edmonton while Jim makes Calgary his home. Harry went overseas for the first World War with the 50th Battalion, while Jack, now a C.N.R. policeman at Edmonton, went with the 1st Canadian from Val Carrière. Miss Maud and Miss Emily of Calgary and Mrs. Regan of Vancouver are the daughters.

"Incidentally, Dad Pryke went overseas with the 10th Battalion and was a musketry instructor at Somerville.

"During the 19 years he has been in his present position Mr. Pryke has seen the Country Club transformed from the bald-headed prairie to one of the West's beauty spots. He estimates that he has overseen about eight miles of turf during working hours, which means that he has walked approximately 40,000 miles over the course in 19 years. Some days he covers the 18 holes as many as three times and never less than once."

Bob Crook's Pigeon Wins First Place

Bob Crook's bird, flying 913 yards per minute through heavy rain, won the second Wednesday 24-point pigeon race. Gus De Smet's entry placed second with a speed of 856 yards per minute at an average of 872 per minute.

The next race to be held by the Edmonton Homing Pigeon Club is scheduled for June 15, starting from the 24-point race. The 24-point race was won by a bird named Unity, Sask.

THE REMARKABLE NATURAL PROFILE

THE ABEL CRAWFORD ROCK

Upper Falls, Anemose River, New Hampshire

DISCOVERED BY ROGER BURNELL

EXPLANATION OF TODAY'S CARTOON

THE NATURAL PROFILE. The remarkable natural stone profile on the rocky wall of the Anemose River near the road to Mount Washington, New Hampshire, has been named the Abel Crawford Rock. The profile is so similar to the profile of the man in the cartoon that it is believed that the man in the cartoon is the same man who discovered the rock. The man in the cartoon is a professional baseball player, and the rock is a natural stone profile. The man in the cartoon is a professional baseball player, and the rock is a natural stone profile.

Favorite Lighthouse II Runs Third In War-Moved English Derby Classic

By Sam Robertson
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEWMARKET, June 13.—Pont L'Evêque ran away with the wartime derby Wednesday over Newmarket's testing course of a mile and a half.

Gallop as though he had borrowed from the regulation and stamina that in enabling France's gallant army to face up to the German hordes on the battlefield, the French-bred, bay colt bested Turkish by three lengths and the half-lavender lightening II by another head.

There was none of the carnival spirit that traditionally surrounds the Derby when it is run at Epsom Downs home. The crowd was only a quarter of that which attends in peacetime but what was lacking in this regard was more than made up by Pont L'Evêque's day of it in his career.

FAVORITE CLOSERS FAST

Jockey Sam Wrag kept his 10 to 1 shot just off the pace set by Romulus for the first half of the journey, and then set him in front to keep him there. Lightfoot II, who had been backed down to 85 to 40, almost caught the flying leader in the dip that leads into the home stretch.

However, the Earl of Derby's Challenger did not have the stamina to match Pont L'Evêque's great run up to the finish. The Ash Khan, Turkish, 100 to 1 in the betting, closed with a rush to nip Lightfoot II at the last pole.

Pont L'Evêque's time was 2:10.4.5.

WINNER GETS $10,000

The win meant $8,000 ($28,750 to Fred Darling who has trained many Derby champions but had never won one before) and the place to the Harrowfield-Pont colt a year ago from H. E. Morris, its breeder, for an undivided sum.

Vincent Richards, England's champion jockey, turned down a chance to ride the winner and finished fourth aside the Maharajah of Kolhapur's Turf Wreath.

The story of the race might have been different if Romulus, one of the famous Blenheim, had not bolted and run away for three miles before the race. He still had the need to set the pace for the first part of the course and the wind lay with the pack until the uphill stage came.

Ponoka-Dodger Game Tonight Promises Action

Tonight the league-leading Ponoka-Simmerman game will be one of the best of the season to date. The two teams are in excellent form and determined to climb to the top of the heap.

At Friday night Ponoka will play at Wexsaw, their fourth Alberta League game of the week.

Sunny Marcus Shows Way At Winnipeg Meet

Winnipeg, June 13.—Sunny Marcus, the consistent player owned and trained by Andy Robinson of Edmonton, returned to his winning pace Wednesday to mark up his seventh victory on western tracks in his last 15 starts.

Sunny Marcus, winner of $1,785 last year, easily took the seventh race. He led practically all the way and had sufficient in reserve to move back from the late challenge of Modern Maid and Early Reck. Robinson's "bread and butter" horse was backed down to even money in the betting and paid $4.10 to win, $2.80 to place and $2.25 to show. The quinnella, coupling Sunny Marcus and Modern Maid, paid $14.95.

As mud continued to hold away at Whittier Park, the fields for most of the races were small. Only five horses ran in the featured fifth race which Four Clubs, winner of the Alberta derby last year, took easily. Four Clubs was racing for the second time under the colors of Dora Ahoff of Winnipeg. Before the season opened, Robinson was in charge of the winner's training.

STORY TELLER SURPRISES

Story Teller provided the biggest surprise of the day in winning the third, a daily double payoff of $288.85 resulted.

Blaze Alder, a second, Epernay in the fourth and Lendaris in the sixth all won handily. Epernay was going away after winning $10,000 in the pace maker, in the stretch.

BROOKLYN PILOT ELATED OVER DEAL FOR JOE MEDWICK

PITTSBURGH, June 13.—"Elated" was the comment of Leo (Lipp) Dugan, manager of Brooklyn Dodgers, early today when informed of the trade which brings his league-leading National League outfielder, Ducky Medwick and pitcher Curt Davis from St. Louis' Cardinals.

"Will that mean the pennant for Brooklyn?" he was asked.

"I'm elated, in a hurry and gotta leave," was the reply.

Manager Harold Olding aims to make amends for the defeat of his Buffaloes Tuesday night by putting his tribe through concentrated training. He has called a general practice for this evening, at 7 o'clock at Comstock Park. A scowl said all players turn out.
